TUNA NOUNDLY. Stivette Was Batted Att Over the Freid and Me Received Poor Support as Well-Brooklyan Annihilated by the Philadelphine-Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and St. Louis the Other Winners-Notes,

There are several changes in the standing of the League clubs this morning. The Bostons, by virtue of their defeat at the hands of the New Yorks, have been forced back into third place, the Baltimores taking second position on their victory over the Washingtons. The New Yorks move up into seventh place again, passing the Cincinnatia, who lost to Pittsburgh. The Brooklyns were simply slaughtered by the Philadelphias, and took another slide down the pole, while the Chica-gos were annihilated by the Clevelands and provided with a tighter grip on the tail end. St. Louis defeated Louisville in a close game. The results:

New York, 16: Boston, 5 Philadelphia, 16; Brooklyn, 5, Baltimore, 11; Washington, 5, Pittsburgh, 6; Cincinnati, 5, Cievaland, 18: Chicago 3

when the Boston champions packed up their bats about suppor time last evening they looked the picture of despair. Six thousand granks roared at their discomfiture, while the New Yorks went home to tea in high spirits. The champions showed that it was well within their power to play rank baseball, and also displayed a surprising tendency to quit when the home team piled up seven runs in the second inning. If Stivetts, the German, has been pitching winning ball in other rities he must have been in luck, for his work yesterday was so poor that his associates giared at him in disgust. The hig fellow didn't have speed enough to break an egg, and became so rattled at times that one could see him roll his eyes as if in great pain. And what a change came over the New Yorks! On Monday they could do nothing with the speedy Nichols, but yesterday they smashed the ball all over the field. Murphy, Ward, and Connor made a total of ien hits, looger alone lining out two doubles and two singles, and greatly surprising his friend, Director Wheeler, who who looked on in amazement. After five innings of agony for "Gen." Dixwell, the Hoston yooter, Stivette was sent to right field and little Bannon came in to pitch. The game was pathing but a farce then, and the crowd strolled home in happiness.

The Bestons played wretchedly in the field. Long tried his hand at short stop, but his eye troubled him so that he had to leave the game after the second inning. Duffy playing short stop and Merritt going to centre field. The shange wasn't of much use, as Duffy made an awful mess of ground balls. Lowe was also in the air" half the time and Capt. Nash struck out wice, much to the delight of the crapks.

struck out twice, much to the delight of the cranks.

Westervelt began pitching for New York. He gave a base on balls to Lowe, and Long forced Bobby at second. Then Herman stole the base and scored on Duff's single. Mc-Carthy sent a fly to Van Haltren, who muffed it squarely, and Nash struck out. This should have retired the side, but Tucker came along with a two bagger and Bannon with a single, all of which netted four runs. Then Ward substituted Mockin, who was very effective, the Bostons making but two singles in five innings. Doyle split a finger in the fifth inning and Farrell took his place. Charley surprised his detractors by putling the ball over the ropes in centre field for a clean home run in the seventh inning. The first half of the eighth inning had been played, Boston seoring two runs on Bannon's single and Ganzel's four-bagger, and New York had ward and Van Haltren on bases when Lynch called the game on account of darkness, the scores going back to the seventh inning. Van Haltren and Burke made the star plays of the game. The score:

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—The Brooklyns fell before the Philadelphias this afternoon because of the terrific manner in which the home team pounded the ball. Atter the first inning the result was not in doubt. Haddock had plenty of speed and pitched a good same against his old comrades. Grady, the Philadelphia Club's new catcher, caught the last half of the game, and did well both at the bast and behind the plats. Delebanty led in the bitting, with two doubles and as many singles. Annon in Trouble With Ris Players, CLEVELAND, May 8.-In addition to his inability to win more than a game this year, Anson has had a quarrel with the best player in his team. On the way from Chicago to Cleveland the members of the Chicago team were in a sleeping car. The train stopped at a rail-way station, and Dahlen was requested to go way station, and Dahlen was requested to go out and get some sandwiches. He did so, and when he came back he made considerable noise. It disturbed Anson's sleep, and he made no bouse of saying so. He reprimanded Dahlen, and when Cleveland was reached the quarrel with the two men was resumed. The result was that Dahlen was suspended without pay and was fined $100 by the testy manacer. Anson's team was weak enough as it was, but it is simply outclassed without Dahlen. Decker was sent back to Chicago today, but no one seems to know why.

The opinion of Judge Pryor touching upon s constitutionality of the Ives Pool law is not causing any great amount of anxiety in the ranks of horsemen who are willing to cept the judgment of John M. Bowers, the counsel of the Coney Island Jockey Club. There is a disposition to stir up trouble where no trouble exists, and the management of the race tracks in New York State are not worrying over the situation.

There is no truth whatever in the rumor that Mr. Croker has been ordered by his physician to sell his race horses and ratire from active participation in the turf. The racing stable of the Tammany leader has been his greatest recreation, and it is most beneficial, as it keeps him in the open air several hours a day. Nobody can see him at the Gravesend course any morning watching the gallops of his horses without being impressed with the belief that he takes a great deal of pleasure out of his thoroughbreds. Mr. Croker loves a horse, whether thoroughend, yesterday, E. T. Bedford's black gelding lette trotted a full mile to a Miller cart in 2:20%, the last half in 1:09.

He is not, and never has been, a very heavy bettor on the races, and is in the racing business because he likes it. Mr. Croker said yesterday that he was in racing to stay, and that the air agreed with him. He has large interests in the breeding industry, owning, in part-nership with Gen. W. H. Jackson, the splendid Beile Meade Stud in Tennessee. His racing stable is small but select, and his great three-year-old Dobbins should win $50,000 or more in stakes and purses this year. His physician thoroughly approved of racing, and thought the exercise he secured at the track just what he wanted.

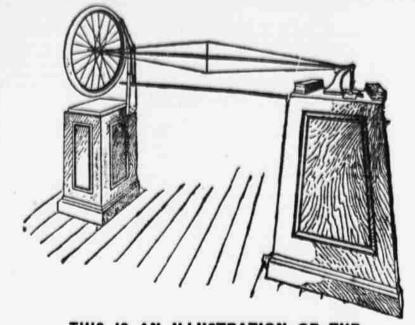

Leighs's Great Filly Runs a Bend Heat with Lottle Eastin. Eugene Leigh is taking his time about letting the Eastern racing public get a line on Clifford, and the crowd at Gravesend yesterin good shape, but not fast. The event of the day was the Pepper Stakes for two-year-olds. day morning, attracted by the news that th Western champion would probably be given Nigravela acted badly at the post and delayed the start, Lottie Eastin, 25 to 1, getting off five fast work, saw nothing phenomenal. At the head of the stretch Kitty thoroughly. Clive was passed and off after Lottle Eastin

After a breeze through the stretch, Martin let the colt run three-quarters of a mile in 1:19%, the first half mile in 53% seconds Opinions are pretty evenly divided concerning Clifford, those who have never seen him race regarding him as a fair-looking thoroughbred that will get all the race he wants on Tuesday and those who know all about him serenely confident that he can beat any horse in America at weight for age. It is said by Chifford's adnirers that he can both sprint and stay. They want a fast, dry track, however, for the brown fellow to show his best efforts.

VICTOR RESILIOMETER,

Used to test the resiliency of pneumatic tires. It records with pencil the number of times any tire bounces. The more resilient, the greater the number of bounces. This testing machine was first exhibited at the New York Cycle Show, 1894, and attracted great attention. All makers of tires were invited to have their product tested. Many accepted, and results proved that the Victor Pneumatic Tire was the most resilient of any. It was Facts vs. Individual Claims. No one should buy a Bicycle without being right on the tire question. The Resiliometer will draw the conclusion and hand you a souvenir recordsomething like this:

NEWS OF THE HARNESS RACERS.

Two Fast Miles at Fleetwood-The Grand Circuit Stewards Meet at Rochester May 30, This week has seen a marked improvement in the speed rate at Fleetwood, the fastest miles of the season being trotted yesterday. F. W. Noble let the brown stallion Charter step a mile in 2:19%, and he did this very cleverly and apparently well within himself The veteran campaigner Garnet, 2:19, sold at auction recently, was also at the track, and John Daly got up behind the grandson of George Wilkes, giving him a mile in 2:20. Mart Demarest, John Shillinglaw, and George H. Martin are among the new resident trainers at Fleetwood, and they are get-ting their flyers in shape for the campaign Prince Aleyone and The Dude, both pacers, are the cracks of Demarest's string, but he Prince Alcyone and The Dude, both pacers, are the cracks of Demarest's string, but he has not given either of them a mile in 2:30 as yet. Shillinglaw has only brought three to the track, Fanny Wilcox, Lizziemont, and others to come next month. He worked Billy C. 2:23%, a slow mile on Monday and let him step the last quarter in 30% seconds.

Several well-bred, and likely youngsters from A. B. Darling's farm in New Jersey arrived at Fleetwood on Monday and are in George Martin's stable. This trainer has also a promising green trotter in Baylight, a bay gedding of four years, full brother to Greylight, 2:16%, who was a star of the Grand Circuit when the late James H. Goldsmith had him. William Simpson has also sent a good one to Martin in the bay mars Mirth, sister to Moloch, 2:17, by Stranger. She is seven years old, but has not been out yet, though she moves in a way that entitles her to a fast mark this season.

Some weeks ago it was reported that Samuel Gamble, late of California, would open a public stable at Fleetwood this year, but he has since decided to locate at Goshen for the season. The reason for this is that E. H. Harriman, owner of Stamboul, has engaged Mr. Gamble to look after the stallion, with a possible view to preparing him for a fast mile. Mr. Harriman has leased the half-mile track at Goshen, and Stamboul will be in the stud there till about the middle of June. He is being logged by Trainer Gamble on the road, and when his breeding engagements are over, will probably be taken to Foughkeepsie for fast work.

A call to the stewards of the Grand Circuit has been issued by the secretary, George W. Archer, for a meeting at the office of the Driving Park Association in Rochester on Wednesday, May 30, at 11 A. At this meeting the classes for the Grand Circuit this season will be arranged, and Mr. Archer invites singlestions from owners ordrivers as to these swents, promising that their interests will be duly considered in making up the programme.

Harvard's 'Varsity Craw Got Another Bearing.

CAMBRIDGE, May 8 .- Something is evidently the matter with the 'varsity crew of Harvard. A week or so ago they were beaten by the sophomores by two lengths. A second race was rowed to-day over a mile and a half course, and the performance was repeated. The sophomore crew is one of the fastest class crews listvard has had for years and it is getting to be a serious question what to do with the 'varsity. There are many who wonder why Harvard did not secure Courings of Cornell when they had the opportunity. There is an impression that some of the 'varsity men are too heavy or clumsy, and they prevent rennessy from hitting up the stroke. They cannot row much above thirty-four sirokes a minute and keep their form. It is pretty certain that there will be ichanges of some kind in the Harvard 'varsity boat before long. the matter with the 'varsity crew of Harvard.
